The Land of Digital Dragon
A Digital Dragon Sponsored and Maintained Minecraft Server
Server Address: mc.digitaldragon.co

The Land of Digital Dragon is a whitelisted, builder-segmented server operated out of and located at Digital Dragon in Santa Monica, California. It is exclusive to Digital Dragon students and requires face-to-face communication with the administrators (any Digital Dragon teacher) in order to be accessed. This document provides proof that the student understands the nature of the online space and that breaking any of the following rules will result in penalties. All rules are subject to the opinion of the administrators. It will be accessible 24/7 unless you are notified otherwise.

Rules

Cyber-bullying

2No cyber-bullying will be tolerated.

2Any builds that are inappropriate in nature, are designed with the intention to harass another student, use graphic images or disrupt another students online workspace (remember the world is infinite so there is a lot of space!), will result in penalties.

2Any chatting that uses foul language, inappropriate themes or graphic images will result in penalties.

2Any chatting that makes fun of another student, forces another student to feel like he/she has to leave, is insulting, derogatory or discriminatory towards another student or attempts to kick a student off the server will result in penalties.

Griefing and Accidental Griefing

2Any student caught purposefully griefing another students work (destroying it, making it difficult to continue building in that space, building inside their space if they have yet to claim ownership of that area) will be subject to penalties.

2 Any student caught attempting to add mods to the server will be subject to penalties. If you think the site would benefit from a specific mod, talk to the admins.

2Please remember students of different levels will be on this server. Some may have difficulty claiming ownership of land. If you find any constructed buildings please DO NOT destroy them. They may be another student's project.

Failure to Report

2Any student that was an active part of OR a bystander to any form of rule-breaking and fails to report it to the administrators will also receive a penalty.

2Any reports should be made out to info@digitaldragon.co or in person to an administrator and should include: time, location, infraction and students involved. Taking a screenshot would be helpful to the administrators as well.

Notes on Administration

For Students

This server may be utilized for class as well as your own personal builds. It gives you an online location that you can access from any computer at any time. It does however come with some responsibility. Please realize that administrators can check chat logs that specifically tell us exactly what you said/wrote as well as image logs that tell us what you built/did. Please keep our trust by playing nicely and having fun building with your friends.

Penalties will NOT be given for students that are experiencing other people's completed, ownership claimed builds and who set off any redstone device: tripwires, dispensers, TNT, pressure plates, levers, buttons etc. We encourage students to explore each others work and see how their friends built the projects. This is only true for ownership claimed, completed builds. Look for a sign at the front of the build that signifies it is completed. That sign is necessary to signify you can go in and check it out.

For Parents

Please realize this site will not be actively moderated 24/7. Whilst it will be actively used for Minecraft classes and checked before Digital Dragon closes for the night, it can not stop students from bullying one another. Because of this retro-active nature of policing the server, we have developed the penalty system. If you hear of any bullying please either let one of the teachers know in person or email info@digitaldragon.co.

Penalties

1st Infraction: 1 week ban from The Land of Digital Dragon

2nd Infraction: 2 week ban from The Land of Digital Dragon

3rd Infraction: Indefinite ban from The Land of Digital Dragon and mandatory meeting with your parents and the administrators.
